Healing With MusicMedicine

HealthBeats is a streaming audio service designed to improve one's physical and mental health. Based on a patient's condition, HealthBeats offers specific music and sound therapies, which reference evidence-based clinical research. Music is prescribed just as medicine would be and a therapy plan schedules a precise dosage and treatment length.

It's easier than ever before to better one's health. Let's heal together.

We're a non-profit organization with the goal of fostering healthier communities. HealthBeats is safe for prolonged use and is non-invasive. There are no negative side effects listening to binaural beats and isochronic tones.

Feedback

"I am in awe of this work. It is so important and is making a real difference in my life. I feel there is a revolution happening to heal the planet, and this modality is working internally with sound to rewire our systems."

Sameer

"I am a student before attempting an exam I used to calm my mind by listening to Healthbeats. While listening to HealthBeats, I gained confidence and it made me feel better, got relief from all the stress."

Harika

"HealthBeats has changed my life. I play the sounds, tones, and songs during my work day to help me focus. I use the playlists to balance my energy."
